

A New home

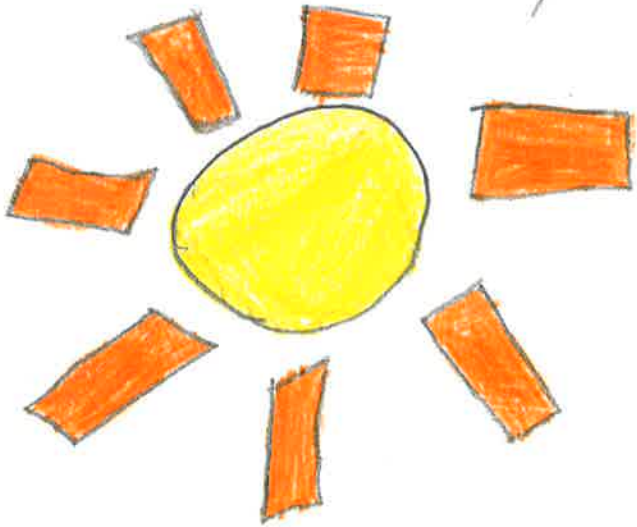

By: wren morgan

The zoo is moving to a new home.
All the animals got on the train.

Oh no! The turtle and the wren bird woke up too late. They missed the train!

They went to find a new home. First they went to the Arctic but it was too cold.

Next they went to a
volcano but it was too hot.

Then they went to a
desert but it was too
dry.

Later they went to an ocean. But it was too wet.

Finally they went to wren and Lily's house. It was just right. The end.
