

1. Write the following numbers in roomaji.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
ichi	ni	san	shi	go	roku	shichi	hachi	kyuu	juu

2. Fill in the blanks with the appropriate numbers.

- 1st-year student: ichi-nen-sei
- 2nd-year student: ni-nen-sei
- 3rd-year student: san-nen-sei
- 4th-year student: yo-nen-sei
- 5th-year student: go-nen-sei
- 6th-year student: roku-nen-sei

3. Match the left side and right side.

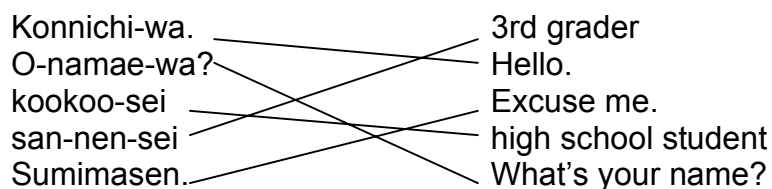

4. Fill in the blanks with the appropriate words in roomaji.

- 1st~6th grade: shoogaku (1~6)-nen-sei
- 7th~9th grade: chuugaku (1~3)-nen-sei
- 10th~12th grade: kookoo (1~3)-nen-sei
- college : daigaku (1~4)-nen-sei

5. Write the reading of the following words in roomaji.

きく (kiku) いけ (ike) こい (koi) あかい (akai)

6. Match the Japanese words and their English equivalents.

7. Match the English words and their Japanese equivalents.

6th grader		daigaku-sei
college student		Doomo.
How do you do?		roku-nen-sei
Thank you.		nan-nen-sei?
what grade?		Hajimemashite.

8. In ancient times, Ohayoo used to be pronounced as ohayou .
 Although the pronunciation has changed over time, the written form has remained the same (おはよう).