Equal Employment Opportunity
Public Inspection File Report

Georgia Public Telecommunications Commission
(Station WGTV and WUGA)

This report is prepared by Georgia Public Telecommunications Commission (“GPTC”), licensee of noncommercial television station WGTV and WUGA, Athens, Georgia and covers its employment unit for WGTV and WUGA and its Atlanta, Georgia headquarters.

The GPTC is also the licensee of an additional eight noncommercial educational television and fourteen noncommercial educational radio stations. GPTC operates its radio and television stations as state public broadcast networks, with all television programs originating in Atlanta and simulcast by all of the stations in the network. Most of the radio stations are operated in a similar manner, although some originate some programming locally. Given this structure, the bulk of GPTC’s employees are located at its Atlanta headquarters. The employees at the individual stations (there are fewer than 5 full-time employees at each of the other stations) are primarily technical personnel assigned to assure the proper operation of the stations.

While GPTV has employees throughout the state, it operates as a single agency for recruitment purposes and employs the same recruitment sources and employment initiatives for all of its job openings. GPTC is also an agency of the state of Georgia and its recruitment and employment practices are subject to the requirements of the State Personnel Administration, Georgia’s equivalent of the federal civil service system.

List of Initiatives

5. Provide a list and brief description of initiatives undertaken to satisfy the requirement to complete four “menu options” within a two-year period.

(v) Establishment of an internship program designed to assist members of the community to acquire skills needed for broadcast employment.

During the 2018-2019 reporting period, Georgia Public Broadcasting continues to grow and expand its internship program experience to include the K-12 grade level school systems, graduate and undergraduate schools, colleges and university systems and programs that promote adult learning experiences to provide this kind of immersion opportunity in the broadcast media industry for all that may have an interest. We have begun posting strategic recruitment opportunities and have had approximately over 28 interns placed at GPB for the Summer and Fall as a result of this new effort. There were 10 recruitment postings in the following areas: On Second Thought Radio Talk Show, Client & Studio Production Services, Political Rewind Radio Talk Show, Digital News, All Things Considered, and Savannah Radio & News. The total number of students and adult learners combined that applied and expressed interest in these opportunities was 232. We continue to expand and work to attract students from diverse colleges and universities as well as adult learners. We have also conducted approximately 7 major educational tours with local and surrounding schools to share in the complete immersion of the product and services that GPB Media provides to its community.

GPB’s Human Resources Office continues to work with internal departments to address their internship program opportunities and needs to continue building a comprehensive internship orientation program. The Human Resources Office also coordinates an onboarding orientation to provide an overview of GPB and the expectations of the internship and an exit briefing survey to collect feedback on the internship experience to identify the effectiveness of the program experience.

The GPB internship program provides members of the community with opportunities to learn about and acquire skills needed for broadcast employment. The program also creates partnerships with local colleges in Atlanta and surrounding areas to broaden the development of students seeking to explore and gain careers in the public broadcasting industry as a whole.

GPB’s broadcast employment experience includes but is not limited to both technical and non-technical skills needed for the workforce. This includes opportunities in production both in radio and television within a newsroom or sports to local and national programming. The internship experience also includes aspects of studio productions, engineering, information technology, digital media, education, development, marketing and communications, graphics and creative services, and administrative functional areas as made available.

Some of the institutions, schools and organizations that GPB has partnered with to provide the internship experiences over the past years include: Agnes Scott College, Brandeis University, Emerson College, Art Institute of Atlanta, Savannah College of Art and Design, Chattahoochee Technical School, University of Georgia, Georgia Highlands College, Kennesaw State University, Spelman College, Rhodes College, Ohio State University, Hampton University, Clayton State University, Temple University, Georgia State University, Amherst College, Emory University, Georgetown, University of North Georgia, and Bard College of Berlin – Germany, Primrose School of Roswell North, and Drew Charter School to name a few.

GPB continues to look for opportunities to expand the internship partnership by building relationships with other local schools, colleges, universities and organizations. The primary goal is to continue efforts to attract and target diverse graduate, undergraduate, and aspiring students and members of the community, who have an interest in broadcast employment. GPB’s Human Resources Staff continues to work with departments and other outside organizations to create a diverse internship experience for all aspiring careers in broadcasting. GPB continues to rotate students quarterly and year round as needed to all operational areas.

Interns will continue to receive hands on training and experience that allow them to acquire the necessary skills needed for administrative and broadcast level employment. GPB will also continue to extend ongoing opportunities for Volunteers through the efforts of the organization’s Volunteer Manager for events and fund-raising campaigns.

(vii) Participation in scholarship/educational stipend programs designed to assist students interested in pursuing a career in broadcasting.

Georgia Public Broadcasting looks for opportunities to partner with programs, schools, and organizations that assist students interested in pursuing careers in broadcasting to provide emersion programs, interactive tours and real world experiences for students at all levels. This year GPB has conducted interactive tours to the following groups: Kennesaw State University, Georgia State University, Margaret Mitchell House Summer Writing Program, Primrose School of Roswell North, Drew Charter School, VOX Atlanta Summer Program, South College and Career Academy, YMCA of Atlanta, Georgia Tech Faculty Women’s Club and Smyrna Area Support for Christian Homeschoolers. GPB has partnered with the University of Georgia for a paid stipend experience so that a student can work while learning about creating and producing podcasts.

GPB continues to welcome new partnerships and opportunities that give students an opportunity to qualify for college credit, experience in broadcasting, course requirement assistance, or stipends available through their school, and/or organization as well as adult learners the opportunity to regain vital experience to enter back into the workforce. Students that participate in these programs receive a variety of benefits to include hands on experience, professional network opportunities, and begin their individual job growth and experience needed to attain careers in their area of interest.

GPB will continue to partner with schools and programs to increase diversity and awareness.

(viii) Establishment of training programs designed to enable station personnel to acquire skills that could qualify them for a higher-level position.

The Human Resources Office continues to work with the executive management staff at GPB to identify, develop and coordinate specialized training that is needed for staff.
